

Behind the oft-stalled peace talks

Double-talk and lies!

Chris Jhann Cordero

“IT TAKES two to tango,” so says a famous adage referring to at least a pair of people or a couple needed to make things work out. In the oftenly stalled peace negotiations, not only should the government be pushed to hard, as it has bended backward so much, but the Maoist communist-terrorists CPP-NPA-NDF should do their utmost effort instead of crying like a spoiled brat.

The Maoist communist-terrorist clique’s latest charade, courtesy of Maoist messiah Jose Ma. Sison, NDF chief negotiator Luis Jalandoni, and NDF spokesman Fidel Agcaoili, only reiterated their usual misdemeanor exuding contempt and confusion.

Many peace-loving Filipinos expressed optimism when the news on the revival of the peace talks made it to the pages of newspapers and the airlines, so to speak. Hope for a better and peaceful environment, especially in strife torn areas due to Maoist communist hooliganism, rang audibly but subdued as they still have to contend the fear and intimidating presence of the Maoist communist-terrorist New Peoples Army.

The CPP-NPA-NDF deception and lies continued amidst the sincere efforts of the government to appropriately respond to the release of 4 prominent NDF personalities who were incarcerated by virtue of a court ordered warrant of arrest.

Elizabeth Principe, reportedly the secretary of the CPP-NPA-NDF’s North Luzon Regional Party Committee, and Randal Echaniz, member of the CPP executive committee cum labor organizer, were released from detention while government has committed that Rafael Baylosis and Vicente Ladlad will not be arrested, even with warrants of arrests hanging on their heads, during the pendency of the peace talks.

In a spur of the opportunity pervading, the Maoist communist-terrorist expanded their demand that government must release 14 detained comrades before any peace talks could begin. “A calculated but expected move from the communists who are masters in the art of deception and lies,” said ANAD Rep. Jun Alcover, himself a former commanding officer-political officer of the Maoist CPP-

UNTENABLE POSITION. CHR chair Leila de Lima's position as head of the human rights' watchdog is seriously questioned. Will she curtsy resign? (ANAD file photo)

THE ALLIANCE for Nationalism and Democracy (ANAD) Partylist slammed the Commission on Human Rights' abject failure to conduct an objective, impartial, and neutral investigation on cases brought before it.

In a privilege speech last Aug 17, ANAD Partylist Rep. Pastor Alcover pointed to CHR Chair Leila de Lima's quickness of response by immediately issuing statements on cases of human rights violations even if it is still in its initial phase or even there is no case yet.

Alcover pointed to the Melissa Roxas case where she issued a prejudicial statement saying, "I wish to stress that the issue before the CHR is the alleged abduction and torture (of Roxas) and not her alleged affiliation. . . ." (pp.2, PDI, July 27) that tends to pre-empt his office's investigation without putting Melissa's Sworn Statement to a test on whether her allegations of abduction and torture were credible, and reliable, in the face of a letter and a VCD we received from an NPA member operating in Aurora province showing Melissa as a regular NPA member, and not a plain activist and environmental writer that she claim to be," Alcover said.

Alcover explained that de Lima's actions, during a CHR hearing he attended, showed her arrogance and biases which should not be expressed in public by a chair of an independent investigating body. Alcover referring to de Lima's answer to his question on whether she is related to Juliet de Lima, wife of Maoist communist founder Jose Ma. Sison. Instead of either admitting or denying her relation, chair de Lima instead said, "If there is a relation, does that make me a communist too?"

Pointing to the pronounced bias and impartiality that not only taints but also besmirched CHR's reputation and credibility to conduct a fair, impartial, objective, and neutral investigation of human rights violations, Alcover strongly called on de Lima to resign from office, ". . . or else I will be constrained to file the appropriate administrative case or cases against her before the Ombudsman."

In an earlier statement, Alcover said that Filipinos cannot expect a fair, neutral, and objective investigation from a CHR chair that has been found to be notorious in issuing biased and prejudicial statements with impunity especially those that tend to support groups actively involved in the "Hate Campaign" against government and its officials.

In the same privilege speech, Alcover called on Congress to investigate, in aid of legislation, the following: a) Melissa Roxas so that she will be made to shed light on her allegation in the face of a document pointing to her as an NPA member and that her abductors were likewise NPA men out to prevent her from pushing through her decision to return to the folds of law; b) Cong. Satur Ocampo, Cong. Liza Maza, and Bayan Secretary General Renato Reyes and other persons responsible in the conceptualization and implementation of the massive "Hate Campaign" against the government with Melissa Roxas in the forefront.

"Someone must have to bear the burden and pay the price. Let the axe fall where it should. However, there are no shortcuts for all of these, the wheels and primacy of justice must continuously turn..." Alcover added. ☐

Toboso massacre

NPAs told to turn over perpetrators

Maurice Tero

IT'S NOW the turn of the Maoist communist NPA to present and turnover the perpetrators of that dastardly ambush of a government vehicle in Toboso, Negros Occidental, last July 13 killing 3 civilians, including a 14-year old student and wounding 3 other civilians.

This is the challenge posed by ANAD Rep. Jun Alcover during a march-rally held at the town's plaza last August 13, exactly a month later.

In a statement, Frank Fernandez, a former Roman Catholic priest and NDF Negros spokesman, admitted that the NPA were responsible for the incident and asked apology from the family of the victims.

Alcover lamented that admitting responsibility and asking forgiveness does not put an end to the grizzly crime against innocent and hapless civilians but they should be made to serve penalty under our laws.

At about 7:30 am of July 23, an undetermined number of NPAs waylaid a cargo truck owned by Barangay Salamanca of Toboso killing the truck driver -Rodolfo Salipod, Ena Pata, and 14-year old Edmar Sultan. Witnesses revealed that the terrorists thought that Salamanca Barangay Chairman Eriberto Baynosa was on board the truck when they open fired at it.

Those wounded were identified as Eryl Baynosa, daughter of Eriberto; Ivy Recopelacion, and Primitivo Lumapay, a bystander.

"To appropriately compensate, even by way of morals and upholding the rule of law, Fernandez should present and turnover the

The untold story of Ka Sitoy

It was already raining hard and from Purok 21, we walked a kilometer up to the alleged grave yard of Ka Sitoy. Reaching the site, the PNP-SOCO immediately cordoned the area pinpointed by the local residents and started digging.

While the digging was going on, media networks started interviewing Mrs. Visagas. At first, she was very stiff as she tried to answer the questions. She narrated the same story she told me to the media.

On the other hand, one of the six people who buried Arnel was called by the Sitio Leader of Anagasi to narrate how they found and buried Arnel's body. Manong Boy (I forgot his name) said, "We came from our farm and I was carrying firewood when we saw the group of Ka Jinggoy (more or less they were a hundred) running towards our direction just meters away from here (pointing the graveyard). We knew of their encounter with the soldiers because we heard the gunshots. We saw a person covered hammock with blood spilled over his body." He said that Ka Jinggoy went near them when he was asked what they will do with the dead man's body. Vivid in his memory, Ka Jinggoy said "It's all up to you whatever you'll do with Sitoy, you may preserve him like anchovy. Go and inform Sitoy's family that he is dead but don't tell it now, maybe, in few days."

Manong Boy said he was shock with his statement knowing Sitoy had been a loyal NPA member. He averred that he even overheard some of the NPA members saying that Sitoy has become a burden to them. I laughed at he thought and interrupted the conversation to say said, "Ah, what?? Preserving him like anchovy? After his services with the NPA's, just like that?" I was murmuring to myself, "That's horrible, for sure there are more Sitoy's buried around here!" Manong Boy reiterated again what Ka Jinggoy said and shook his head.

On the other corner, I heard Ms Visagas crying over the testimony of Manong Boy. She exclaimed and almost shouting while crying, "I just wanted my son back, they won't give Dodoy back to me and now they are returning him like anchovy. It's all your fault because you did not listen to me!" She cried continuously. I looked around and was everyone was affected with the statement from a mother who lost his son. I was holding my own tears, I felt the pain because I am a mother, too and with that same moment, I suddenly remembered my mother back home.

Manong Boy attested that they were the ones responsible for burying the remains of Sitoy to avoid health risk among the local residents. He said that they immediately buried Sitoy using their bare hands and jungle knives. "The grave was only a waist high. It's the best we can do for him and for the people here", he said.

Moments later, local residents started to pulling-out Sitoy's remains. The PNP-SOCO and the media pre-positioned themselves. Everyone started covering their noses as stench filled the air.

As the Sitoy's remains was pulled-up, Ms Visagas cried even louder at the sight of his son who had been dead and buried four years. "Dodoy, ko!" she said repeatedly.

The stinky and awful smell covering over the place pushed the people to move away from the area, as they can't bear it no more.

Beside me were Sitoy's brothers, I asked them if they want to be like Arnel someday. Boldly, his brother retorted "NO" and the other saying "That's his fault, he is hard headed. He chose to be like that. He left us to be with them (NPA).. He can't really blame us, we convinced him many times to leave them (NPA)."

We immediately went down to the Sitio and the word that keep bugging my mind while traversing down the hill was "anchovy". I looked around the houses. Some were peeping and looking at us. The media on the other hand were taking photos and videos and some interviewed LtC Kurt Decapia, 10ID Public Affairs Officer and Major Orquia. In the far corner, Sitio leaders were busy constructing a "Kangga" where the cadaver of Sitoy will be placed and pulled by a carabao.

We headed back to Sitio Anagasi. We reached the site at around 3:30 in the afternoon. Exhausted and hungry, we shared lunch through a boodle fight. Practically nothing was left on the table except a plateful of fish anchovy.

I smirked at the sight of the anchovy and wonder how many innocent people have turned to the "dogs" for refuge but later thrown back to the dogs as appetizers. How many Arnels as there who dreamed of changing back to normal life but end up in a fish net with the rest of the small fry made into anchovies, an appetizing treat for an encounter with the soldiers. ☹

Kid's life saved from rabies

CAMP KALAW, MONKAYO, COMPOSTELA VALLEY PROVINCE – Timely and immediate response ordered by Lt. Colonel Gilbert F Saret, commanding officer of the 25IB, 10ID, PA, saved Honey May Barabad, 4 years of age of Sitio Nursery, Barangay Ngan, Compostela, Compostela Valley province, from death due to rabies. Upon receipt of the information, Lt. Col. Saret immediately dispatched the Research for Peace and Development team led by 1lt. Ernest Carolina to extend whatever assistance possible to help save the life of Honey May.

It was learned, last August 7, 2009 Honey May was bitten on the face by a puppy. After several days the said puppy showed deteriorating health condition and eventually died. When the 25IB troopers learned about this, Lt. Carolina made several coordinations with different organizations and public offices in search of possible sources of anti rabies vaccine to help Honey May. The puppy was sent to Davao City Veterinarian Office for analysis and the dog tested positive of rabies last August 13.

Through the help of the soldiers, the local government of Compostela, the Provincial Social Welfare and Development Office, local politicians and kind hearted civilians, various an amount of more than 15,000 worth of anti rabies vaccine was produced to save the life of Honey Mae.

This incident also heightened the awareness of the locality regarding rabies. Carolina and the rest of the Research Team for Peace and Development of the 25IB in the area conducted lectures on the prevention of similar incident to happen. At the same time, the incident also unearthed the need for the LGU to address rabies as a potent threat to the locality.

Various programs on dog vaccination and information campaign must be conducted to avoid similar incident from happening again in the future. The 25IB Research Team for Peace and Development are at present helping the Local Government of the Municipality of Compostela in the conduct of Rapid Need Assessment for projects that will alleviate the living condition of the local populace and ultimately bring development in the area. Peace is CPP's double talk

THE INITIATIVES for peace lingers on with only the government showing clear and sincere interest to go back to the negotiating table with the Maoist communist CPP-NPA-NDF, in Oslo, Norway.

The talks, reportedly set to start Aug 28, did not push through because of Maoist communist's protestations and unreasonable demands that are far too excessive and impossible for government to comply.

This is the strategy oftenly used by the Maoist. First, they make overtures, through a third party, to resume the peace talks with the government. Then they make initial and reasonable demands which later on turn into an expanded list of demands that government cannot and will not be able to comply.

Riding on the issue of JASIG and other covenants previously entered into by both sides, the Maoist communists makes a strong sound of saber-rattling with the connotations of ill-will and venomous tirades heaped against government.

Such is the case of the recent effort to revive the peace negotiations. Obviously, it was doomed from the start. The Alliance for Nationalism, and Democracy (ANAD) Partylist has stood four squares on the ground and have said, in several forums, that with the same scenario and deceptive machinations displayed by the NDFP, the talks will surely get to nowhere.

The deception all started with the Maoist group parading Luis Jalandoni, as its chief negotiator with the Maoist communist's honcho Jose Ma. Sison, astute and shrewd as ever, playing coy and saying that he is just a mere chief political consultant of the NDF.

ANAD's question on who appointed Luis Jalandoni as the Maoist communist's chief negotiator and the parameters covered by Jalandoni's appointment, shall remains a question, ad infinitum, because of the Maoist communist CPP-NPA-NDF's continued coyness and arrogance.

Then, using certain provisions of the Joint Agreement on Security and Immunity Guarantees (JASIG), they sought the release from prison and/or detention of Elizabeth Principe and Randall Echanis which the government acceded plus an assurance that Rafael Baylosis and Vicente Laddad would not be arrested during the pendency of the peace talks.

The additional demand to quash the cases and to release 14 other Maoist communist, because they are members of the NDF peace panel: members, consultants, or staff, is definitely impossible considering the judicial process that it must have to undergo. Also, this new demand is wrapped with pretensions and deceit.

The CPP-NPA-NDF wanted shortcuts that would be beyond and outside of the law. Clearly this loudly speaks of the swift death penalties imposed by their Kangaroo Courts against their own members and innocent Filipinos.

Without doubt, the Maoist communist CPP-NPA-NDF does not believe in peace nor even think about it. However, they only seriously think about peace to bide time in order to advance their demagoguery against the free and democratic government of our country and people. ☐

REY SALAS

CPP: No to peace!

CATWALK is now the path with which government must take as it continuously seeks that elusive peace.

The recent scuttling of the oftenly stalled peace talks speaks only of one important point - Indeed, the Maoist communist CPP-NPA-NDF does not intend or has interest to achieve a true and meaningful peace for the country and people!

Their demands are attainable after the government bended so much just to let the peace process move on. To ask for the release from detention of Elizabeth Principe, the wife of Leo Velasco, the latter being the "bagman" of the Maoist communist CPP-NPA-NDF while the former being a stalwart of the communist organization in the island of Luzon; and Randall Echanis, a known labor sector drum-beater and a member of the CPP's executive committee, plus the assurance that Rafael Baylosis and Vicente Laddad, all members of the CPP central GOVERNMENT must seriously reconsider its position amidst the realities pervading, as it constantly seeks the path of peace with the Maoist Communist Party of the Philippines.

ANAD slams Joma

The Alliance for Nationalism and Democracy (ANAD) Partylist strongly believes that the oftenly stalled peace talks could lead to nowhere except but to strengthen the Maoist communist-terrorist's resolve to seek the destruction of our freedom and democratic ideals; and replacing it with a Maoist communist dictatorship.

ANAD Rep. Jun Alcover slammed the Maoist communists as the root causes of our country's economic and political woes because it has not shown sincerity and commitment to reach out for that elusive peace for our country and people.

"The more than 20 years of peace negotiations achieved nothing... except the fact that government is pushed to the wall with calculated lies and deceit spewing from each and every breath by Maoist communist leaders," Alcover said.

Alcover pointed to Luis Jalandoni leading the NDF panel, in the talks as, "a clear proof of Maoist communists' deception and insincerity because without an authority from the CPP central Committee, to include the parameters of his authority, he is a lame duck chief negotiator of the Maoist communist movement," Alcover said.

Alcover added that this situation resulted in the NPA's continued attacks against government and innocent civilians while the peace talks are going on. "Jalandoni cannot order the NPA to cease and desist from committee, would not be arrested is definitely one for the books.

We all know that the 4 had outstanding arrest warrants. Thus, their release underwent through a judicial processes and it took time to have it done. Unlike the Maoist communist's Kangaroo Court proceedings where one is always presumed guilty unless proven otherwise; our judicial process should be in accordance with the rule of law where no one in government could make shortcuts and with ease.

The turning point of it all was the demand for the release of 14 other communist personalities whom they alleged as members, consultants, and staff of the NDF panel. The latest demand was made by Fidel Agcaoili and Luis Jalandoni, NDF spokesman and NDF panel's chief negotiator respectively, and with Maoist messiah Jose Ma. Sison giving his imprimatur seal on it.

Allegations of this being agreed to by the government is highly preposterous and a big lie! Government could not do it with ease without the express consent and/or order from the courts. In fact, government was caught "with its pants down" when news reports were made and accusations by the Maoist communists were hurled against government.

Observers are of the belief that this statement is an ominous and unequivocal proof of their insincerity and non-commitment to achieve peace. Right from the start, some 22 years have past, the Maoist communist CPP-NPA-NDF has not envisioned nor did it intend to restore peace in the country. Peace could stall, if not totally negate, their dream of booting out our country's free and democratic government and to replace it with their brand of communist dictatorship.

As their venerable Mao Tse Tung has said, "...Peace can only be achieved after the revolution. A revolution is not a picnic or a dinner party but a violent overthrow of the system."

In short, government must strongly reconsider its position. Resuming the oftenly stalled peace talks would only give the Maoist communist organization their much needed respite to consolidate, rearm, or re-supply their forces in the run-up towards the 2010 elections. ☐

DXRA bombing remembered

Jovito Palparan (6th from the right) during the commemoration of the DXRA bombing on the same site where it did happen. (Inset) Rep. Alcover talks with Davao City media reporters.

ANOTHER GORY incident is commemorated. This time, thousands of Davawenos joined the Tri-Media Organization for Peace and Alliance in Mindanao (TROPA-Mindanao) in commemorating the 22nd anniversary of the so-called DXRA massacre, one of the several infamous incidents of the Maoist communist-terrorist New Peoples Army.

The DXRA massacre, last August 27, 1987, resulted to the death of 9 persons namely: Leo Palo, radio commentator; his volunteer assistant Cesar Maglalang; reporter Rodjie Sagado; technician-on-board Narcing Balani; and five civilian guests. Announcer Ferdie “Batman” Lintuan survived the attack but only to be assassinated on the eve of Christmas in 2007 after his morning radio program in Davao City.

The commemoration ceremonies held last August 27 with the theme: “Responsible Journalism Towards a Free and Peaceful Society.” was capped by a wreath laying ceremonies at the site of the incident situated within the premises of radio station DXRA, was led by ANAD Partylist Rep. Jun Alcover and Bantay Partylist Jovito Palparan Jr, and witnessed by freedom and peace loving Davawenos.

Several witnesses of that incident revealed that after hitting DXRA, the armed attackers onboard a Ford Fiera-type vehicle immediately proceeded to attack DXMF-Bombo Radyo Davao Broadcast Center, then in its old site at Bajada but failed to inflict harm on anyone.

ANAD Rep. Alcover expressed dismay that human rights advocates, like Karapatan and their surrogate organizations in Davao, intentionally left out these incidents, e.g. Digos and DXRA massacres, to make ease their accusations of human rights violations against government.

“It pains me so much to hear and bear witness to these self-professed human rights advocates who continue to play deaf and dumb on atrocities committed by their cohorts in the Maoist communist organizations,” said Alcover.

Alcover called on the National Union of Journalist of the Philippines, (NUJP) to take up the cudgels and lead the all out campaign against extra-judicial killings of media practitioners. “What happened to Leo Palo and others is a blatant affront to press freedom that the NUJP, regardless of color or creed must seek justice and rise up even against Maoist communist-terrorist atrocities,” Alcover pointed out.

The day long activity was highlighted by a Multi-Sectoral Forum on Press Freedom held at the Training Center of the University of South Eastern Philippines (USEP) in Brgy. Obrero, Davao City.

ANAD Partylist Rep. Pastor M. Alcover, Jr. and Bantay Partylist Rep. Jovito S. attacking being co-equals in status in the CPP’s hierarchal structure with the NDF,” he pointed out.

“Rubbing salt to the wounds it has caused, the Maoist messiah and CPP founding chair Jose Ma. Sison alluded on himself the title of chief political consultant of the NDF, despite his being the chairman of the CPP central committee. Thus, government must demand Jalandoni’s written appointment to determine the source of such appointment. Government must not deal with phantom organization!” Alcover explained.

By a stroke of luck, Sison bared himself out, as published in the CPP’s web site and a corresponding story by the Philippine Daily Inquirer (pp2, August 23) with the title - - “Joma calls off peace talks after government fails to free rebs”, that indeed he is the top honcho of the Maoist communist CPP-NPA-NDF today. “Nobody can issue such kind of statement if he indeed is a mere chief political consultant of the NDF,” Alcover clarified.

Alcover slammed Sison for demanding the release of arrested Maoist communist NPA and NDF leaders, despite warrants issued by the courts, while at the same time continue to protect and coddle NPA and NDF personalities who are behind the series of murders and other forms of atrocities against government and the Filipino people, amidst their admission of responsibility and asking apology to the family of the victims.

“This is where the communist’s lies and deceit is undoubtedly clear.” Alcover stressed.

He challenged the communist-terrorist to show proof that indeed they are protectors of human rights and not coddlers of criminals. “Their continued keeping the perpetrators only shows the contrary of what they profess to be,” said Alcover.

The ANAD partylist Representatives challenged the eight pseudo partylist representatives from Bayan Muna, Anakpawis, Gabriela, and Kabataan, “To make good of their self-proclaimed advocacy of protecting every Filipinos human rights. I challenged you to condemn this vicious inhuman act committed by the NPAs in Negros Occidental. This is the only way wherein you can make good of what you profess to be,” Alcover quipped. ☐

Double-talk... P1

NPA in Eastern and Central Visayas, in the mid 70's.

Alcover's statement is reminiscent of the many urgent calls raised and sounded by the Alliance of Nationalism and Democracy (ANAD) Partylist urging government to be extra cautious in dealing with the Maoist communist-terrorists, among others.

Deception lies strongly in the naming Luis Jalandoni as NDF chief negotiator when nothing is explicit as to whom did the appointment come from when Maoist messiah and CPP found chair Jose Ma. Sison voluntarily shied away and presented himself as the NDF's chief political consultant. "Government is dealing with a phantom organization resulting in the NPAs continued assault while the peace talks are going on," said Alcover pointing to the past stagings of the talks.

"Government's actions should not only be calculated too but with clarity demanding a response from the communists as to who appointed Jalandoni as the lead negotiator," said Alcover.

On the issue of a possible power struggle within the communist movement, Alcover retorted saying, "That is expected because the hawks in the party, led by the couple Benito and Wilma Tiamzon, are already wary with how Sison and his cohorts had manipulated the party, especially the funds, for their own personal and selfish gains," as Alcover added saying that his sources within the party are griping and has caused a serious rift within because of the feeling of discontent that has swept across the Maoist communist organization. ☒

Bayan Muna's Ocampo must apologize!

Tony Abayza

THE ALLIANCE for Nationalism and Democracy (ANAD) Partylist expressed strong support to the call for Bayan Muna Rep. Satur Ocampo to publicly apologize for a serious act committed against them.

The call was made by the officers and men of the 10th Infantry Division, Phil. Army headed by Maj. Gen. Reynaldo Mapagu; Task Force Davao headed by Lt. Col. Oscar Lactao, and the Davao City PNP Office headed by SSupt. Ramon Apolinario after Davao City Branch 10 RTC Judge Jose Emmanuel Castillo denied the petitions for the issuance of a Writ of Amparo filed by lawyer Carlos Isagani Zarate, Angela Librado, and Elizabeth Ladaga, docketed as Special Proceeding Nos. 004-09, 005-09, and 006-09, respectively.

In House Resolution No. 1342 filed recently by ANAD Partylist Rep. Jun Alcover, the pro-democracy alliance strongly condemned the “empty” and “hearsay” allegations of Ocampo that the court explicitly turned down. It was learned that the petitions

- “Hearsay” and “empty” assertions
- Miserably failed to prove his allegations

“APOLOGIZE! IF YOU'RE MAN ENOUGH.” This is the call of innocent military and police officers and men who seems to be victims of malicious propaganda by BAYAN MUNA Rep. Satur Ocampo (below).

... even if Representative Ocampo personally testified on what he stated in his affidavit (which he did not), his testimony would, nevertheless, be considered empty considering that he has no direct or personal knowledge about the authenticity of the subject “OB List”, hence, whatever he says is hearsay. . . .”

Judge Castillo's decision on Atty. Zarate's petition for the Writ of Amparo were rooted on Ocampo's PowerPoint presentation material.

In a statement, Alcover said that the courts have clearly drawn the line between facts and fabricated statements. “The latter are allegations that are not substantiated or proven before the courts of law. Ocampo's failure to prove his so-called OB list, purportedly by the military, is enough proof of the Maoist communist's blatant, unparalleled, and devious propaganda campaign against government,” Alcover stressed.

The petitioners claimed that their name was on the military's Order of Battle list thus their respective lives are seriously threatened. In their separate complaints, they pointed to Ocampo as the source of the information who told them that he (Ocampo) is in possession of a PowerPoint presentation on the OB list obtained by him from a “conscientious soldier.”

However, during the hearing, Ocampo failed to prove his allegation as he failed to personally testify before the court and to present the so-called “conscientious soldier.” The court stressed that Ocampo, “. . .even if he was able to personally testify (which he did not) his statement would, nevertheless, be considered as empty considering that he has no direct or personal knowledge of the authenticity of the subject “OB List”, hence whatever he says about it is hearsay.”

Alcover pointed out that Ocampo's failure to testify was deliberate because the case was part of the Maoist communist's grand black propaganda campaign against the military and government. “Obviously, this was intentional and calculated,” said Alcover as he reiterated his call on Ocampo to apologize to officers and men of the Phil. Army and the PNP that he willfully wronged. ☐
